Summary of the good practice	EUREStv offers a unique insight into the European labour market, opportunities, and challenges for jobseekers and employers. The platform features various episodes, such as Season 2 Episode 3 which focuses on European labour mobility. It explores seasonal job opportunities in different sectors, taking viewers to a Holiday Resort in the Netherlands, a strawberry farm and a Husky Safari in Finland. The episode also features guests in the studio, including Herbert van Oord from HISWA-RECRON (trade association for watersports and recreation in The Netherlands), Jordy Kamerling from EURES The Netherlands, and Daniel Bellon from EURES Spain. Since COVID-19, EUREStv has been exploring new ways to improve the connection with European citizens and engage in a digital way. The project was implemented by UWV EURES in the Netherlands in cooperation with various EURES colleagues, Member States, employers, social partners and jobseekers, while this episode in particular was realised together with TE-Live, which is Finnish public employment service that produces live broadcasts online. This initiative highlights the benefits of using EURES services and provides valuable insights and tips on working abroad. EUREStv continues to be an excellent way to engage with European citizens and promote fair labour mobility across the EU.
OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES
Background/context	The collaboration between EUREStv and TE-Live aimed to showcase seasonal work opportunities across Europe and inspire potential jobseekers, highlighting reciprocity and cross-border cooperation. Their cooperation in 2023 resulted with an episode (Season 2, Episode 3¹) promoting seasonal job opportunities and experiences in Finland, expanding the digital link between EURES members and partners and European citizens through an online broadcast discussing various themes related to job opportunities and challenges. Thirty minutes long episode broadcast date was 7 December 2023. The project involved creating three items to promote seasonal jobs in the EU, focusing on the agricultural and tourism sectors in Finland. Filming took place at two

	locations in Finland, highlighting companies offering seasonal jobs such as Portaanperän Mansikkatila Strawberry Farm in Padasjoki and Bearhill Husky Tour in Rovaniemi. Also, the third location visited was the Holiday Resort De Molenhoek in the Netherlands. The project team conducted interviews with employers and employees/mobile workers, capturing their experiences and insights into seasonal work in Europe. The partners have agreed to share the costs and efforts of the production, as well as to provide technical and onsite support.
Objectives	The main objective of EUREStv is to showcase the diverse and dynamic labour markets in Europe and to provide practical guidance and support for jobseekers and employers who want to work or recruit abroad. By featuring stories and experiences of seasonal workers in different sectors and countries, the respective Season 2 Episode 3 of EUREStv also aims to highlight the opportunities and challenges of seasonal work and to promote it as a viable and beneficial option for fair labour mobility in the EU.
Main activities	► Pre-production planning included activities like conducting preparatory meetings with stakeholders to discuss co-production, engaging stakeholders and assigning specific roles for the production, writing a script, creating a draft agenda detailing the filming schedule and locations and forming a project team. Content creation included activities like developing a proposal for filming and involving companies and candidates to provide content based on seasonal work, while post-production and promotion included editing the onsite reports and episode itself including the subtitles, drafting a communication plan for promoting the content on various platforms and preparing reports. Description of the Season 2, Episode 3: ► This episode of EUREStv takes a deep dive into the world of seasonal job opportunities across Europe, with a special focus on the Netherlands and Finland. The episode is a part of the EUREStv initiative, created and financed by EURES the Netherlands, aiming to connect

European citizens with job opportunities and challenges in the European labour market.

- ▶ In this episode, viewers can discover more about TE-live and the Finnish employment service. This segment demonstrates how they link jobseekers with seasonal work opportunities, providing a window into the Finnish job market and the variety of seasonal positions available, spanning from agriculture to the tourism industry.

Innovativeness (innovative features of the good practice)	The use of digital media to engage with mobile workers and European citizens in general and promote labour mobility is an innovative aspect of the practice. EUREStv combines informative and entertaining content to showcase the benefits and challenges of working in different EU countries, as well as the support available from EURES. The practice also leverages the potential of social media to reach a wider and more diverse audience. EUREStv also fosters interactivity and engagement by inviting viewers to share their questions and feedback, and by featuring real stories and testimonials from workers and employers. It makes it tangible for both employers wanting to recruit in Europe and jobseekers willing to go working abroad.
Digitalisation (Design, development and/or utilisation of digital tools, policies or plans for digitalisation, business processes and data digitalisation, data sharing digital initiatives, the use of digitalisation to facilitate the access to data in real time and detection of fraud and error, etc.)	This practice involved the design and development of digital content for EUREStv and the use of digital platforms for broadcasting. This enabled the practice to reach a large and diverse audience across the EU and beyond, and to offer a flexible and accessible way of learning about labour mobility, seasonal cross-border opportunities and EURES services.
